Boy Scout World Conservation Award

The World Conservation Award provides an opportunity for individual Boy Scouts to 'think globally' and 'act locally' to preserve and improve our environment. This program is designed to make youth members aware that all nations are closely related through natural resources and that we are interdependent with our world environment.

The design of the badge incorporates the panda logo of the World Wildlife Fund, which sponsors the Award on a worldwide basis with the fleur-de-lis, which is found on or as the basis for many nation's Scouting emblems. The World Conservation Award is earned by Scouts and Venturers in many other nations outside of the United States.

If a Cub Scout earned the Cub Scout version of this badge, he may not transfer it to his Boy Scout uniform - he must earn the award as a Boy Scout.

Earn the Boy Scout World Conservation Award by earning the following merit badges:

- Environmental Science
- Soil and Water Conservation OR Fish and Wildlife Management
- Citizenship in the World

The World Conservation Award is worn on the uniform shirt, centered on the right pocket as a TEMPORARY patch. Only ONE Temporary patch may be worn at a time.
